Songs to the Lord,
Him that heav'n and Earth hath wrought,
But my breast is now too weak,

15

Dark-ness, from my mind then take,
Him that, all things fram'd of nought,
Trum-pets, shrill the air should break,

19

For thy rites, thy rites none may begin,
Him that all, that all for man did make,
All in vain, in vain my sounds I raise,

Till they But make Bound-less 23

feel thy light, till they feel thy light with in.
man for his, but make man for his own sake.
pow - er, bound - less pow - er asks bound - less praise.
